

Language Lab and Communication Skills

English lab provides opportunities for the students to practice and fine tune their language skills. Both the English lab workbook and the language software provided by K-VAN Solutions integrate the following activities that are aimed at enriching English language fluency of the learners. While some activities are practiced in ELCS labs, the other activities are meant for AECS lab where students are trained in activities that are very practical in nature in terms of preparing students for life after academics.

Lab Activities and Events

1. Ice-breaking activity: Ice-breakers are speaking activities used with a new class in order to give the learners an opportunity to meet each other. In order to complete an ice-breaker task learners must talk to each other. These allow the new comers to talk to each other and know each other well. For the teachers such ice breakers give an opportunity to identify the learners and form an initial assessment of them when they start talking about themselves. This also allows the learners to work in teams and participate in collaborate learning. As the learners involve in team work and interact personally with each other, they also establish personal bonding essential for successful learning. Some of the ice-breaking activities include Just One Lie, Unique and Shared etc.

JUST A MINUTE

'Just a Minute' or JAM is an impromptu speech test conducted with the time limit of one minute. As a student and as a budding technocrat you will be asked to speak on the spur of the moment more number of times, than you are asked to make prepared presentations. This activity helped the students to improve their personality, self introduction, communication skills. It also made the students to introduce themselves in an impressive and effective way.

Literary Quiz on 17th October 2015 for I & II B.Tech Students.

Outcome of event:

Aim: demonstrate a set of basic skills in literary communication and explication of literary practices and process with clarity, display knowledge to cultivate a better understanding of values.

The Department of English conducted a literary quiz on 17th October, 2015, for the first and the second year students of Engineering at CMRCET. The students were divided into teams and were explained about the rules of the quiz. The students earlier were told about the topics in which the quiz might test them. As a result the students came prepared to the event. The faculty quizzed the students about famous books and their authors, famous quotations from books, pennames of well known writers. The students' response was heartening to the organizers. Once again the organizers were helped by the volunteers from the senior classes.

4. Role Play: Role Play is any speaking activity where one either puts oneself into somebody else's shoes or one may put oneself in an imaginary situation. Thus the learners can themselves to be the president or the prime minister of a country. They then can enact the role using appropriate language. Such activities make learning enjoyable and interesting. Enacting imaginary situations allow the students to practice language needed for such situations. Such situations as checking in at hotel, requesting for directions help the learners to understand the practical nature of language. Students who find participating in conversations and dialogues uncomfortable can use role play as a means to express themselves.

5. Giving Directions: This is another practical activity that helps the learner to deal with various situations in the real world. Here the learner is taught how to ask for directions and give directions to another in English. The teacher divides the students into pairs and gives some hypothetical situations. The students then are asked to ask for directions, followed by answers.

9. Resume writing: Preparing one's resume is one of the most important of any student's transition from college to career. While understanding the structure of resume is important, what goes into making a good resume is even more important. In the lab the students are taught how to structure their resume in terms of their career objective, profile, achievements and skills. They are also taught to keep their resume brief. Most importantly the students are encouraged to participate in various cultural and technical events which find their way into their resume. It is because mere academic qualifications will not fetch them a job.

11. Technical Report writing: Careers in industry or for that matter any career calls for report writing skills. Keeping in view of the requirements of both the industry and the students, the language lab included report writing in its syllabus. In the lab the students are introduced to the basic purpose of a report: the spoken or written account of something that one has observed, heard, seen, or studied. The students are introduced to the three formal aspects of a report: preliminaries, main part and the supplementaries. The preliminaries include title page, terms of reference, contents, list of tables or diagrams, acknowledgements and summary. The main part includes the introduction, methodology, results, discussion and conclusions or recommendations. The supplementary includes the references, appendices and glossary.

Power point presentations: PPTs have become a part of a professional's life. Irrespective of one's profession, each one of us use PPT as tool of presentations. Thus one should know how to use such modern tools. In the language lab PPT are used to present one's ideas and thoughts to the audience. They supplement one's efforts to convey one's ideas in the form of tables, illustrations. But the students are cautioned not overuse them as complete dependence on them can defeat the very purpose of using them
